LivePicture...
A living, breathing painting

LivePicture bridges the gap between plant and art to offer a constant talking point as the arrangement changes over time. Unusual and beautiful, LivePicture brings new life and interest to any bare wall.

Simple: Hangs on the wall as easily as a painting; no electricity and no integrated water supply needed

Beautiful: Modern framed design and superior build quality

Easy: No hassle thanks to low water requirement.

LivePicture is easy to install, easy to move and easy to maintain. Just add water once every six weeks.

LivePicture can be supplied in white, silver grey or charcoal/anthracite. Other colours are available on request.

No power is needed for LivePicture. The internal irrigation system contains sufficient water for approx. 6 weeks depending on pruning, the temperature and types of plant.

The irrigation system has a visible water level indicator indicating when it is full or requires refilling.

LivePicture has been tested at temperatures between 0-40˚C.

Installing LivePicture requires a level, a pencil and a drill. All fixing materials are included with the hardware.
